Blue water sailing is one of the most advanced types of sailing. It's hard simply because you have to be self-reliable. You're out on the open ocean alone.

Founded in by a group of enthusiastic sailors, the Blue Water Sailing Club dedicates itself to safe cruising, racing, boating education, and good fellowship among its members. In small boats, it is done by positioning the crew. So the boat needs to be outfitted with a different cooling system and part stock. With the Coast Guard keeping a close eye on everybody, the chance that something really bad happens is extremely small. After swimming around the statues for about an hour, we hopped back on the boat and started sailing towards our next stop, Happy Hill Bay. The ship may lose forward momentum become caught in stays and the rigging may fall. Water Sailing Club functions due to the volunteer efforts of all of us.
