Nobelwind windmills park outage. Faced with the consequences of an increase in greenhouse gases, the proponents of nuclear power present it as the essential solution in that it emits much less carbon dioxide than the combustion of oil, gas or coal.

ParcettechniquesdeproductionenCorseetoutre-mer.SavedtoWorkspace! Thus the example of France shows the fatal gap between, on the one hand, the substitution of nuclear power for other energy sources and, on the other, a fundamental reform of the energy system – and raises the question of how compatible these approaches are. Or, les calculs qui le prennent en compte sont discutables. DescriptorsDEC.Source : "Nuclear power : a false solution to climate change". The official projected investment costs, for example, have consistently been lower than the actual costs subsequently acknowledged, which have never fallen as promised.
