Sharron Arksey added it May 21, Collected and edited by Kirsten Eve Beachy, who teaches writing at Eastern Mennonite University, Tongue Screws and Testimonies challenges readers to consider the implications of Martyrs Mirror in their own lives. Even more importantly it can help us connect to martyrs anywhere and in any time, and realizing why we too might be called to be a martyr, but also understanding there's a difference between a need to be right and a need to stand firm or hold stories to a vision.

The notion that no North American Mennonite library could be complete without it. The following is taken from this and is illustrative of the volume. Beachy was born in Goshen, Ind.

But they are nevertheless raised by it, if only in an implicit way. Luthy also says this gloomy gorge is a bath-house, to which many come to be treated for various diseases.
